HS Consultancy Ltd: Covid-19 & Remote working

Hári Sewell can adapt training courses to be delivered remotely and is still available to deliver courses that are currently booked and will accept bookings for courses required in the next few weeks, during the Covid-19 epidemic.

Process

- Participants are issued with a one-click access link to join
- Full briefing for participants to enable smooth running and how to use the functions
- Regular breaks
- Participant interaction
- Screen sharing of presentation slides
- Exercises done remotely
- Simplified case study work

Hári has used online platforms for delivering training and webinars since 2011.
